Mission

Support and encourage greater numbers of diverse female leaders in the Internet technology sector in the Asia Pacific who are able to fully contribute to a strong and healthy Asia Pacific Internet community.

Objectives

For women working in the Internet technology sector in the Asia Pacific:

- Increase participation in a range of community activities including speaking engagements, program committees, fellowships, community trainers, policy making and discussion, and more
- Build technical and leadership capacity by sharing best practices, experiences and other resources
- Facilitate professional networking in the Asia Pacific including continuing the conversations begun, and the strengthen the connections made, at Women in ICT and Tech Girls events

Our solution

A mailing list:

APAC-ICT-Women@apnic.net

Content by and for women working in tech and ICT roles in the Asia Pacific.

Open for women, and men who support the objectives of the list.

What gets shared on the list?

- Sharing opportunities for participation, i.e. fellowships, jobs and presentation opportunities
- Experiences of and questions on best practices, technology deployment, leadership, development and presentation skills
- Success stories
- Sharing information resources such as good tutorials and materials
- Asking for insight into and feedback on applications, presentations, etc.
- Discussing relevant news, discussions forums, meetings and notable experiences (interesting meetings, technologies, etc)
